OVER THE OCEAN.

England.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Trades Union congress passed resolutions pledging the various unions to begin an agitation in favor of decreasing the hours of labor to 8 hours per day and to make every Saturday a full holiday. It was contended by delegates that 700,000 men now out of work would be able to get employment if this rule was put in force.

The queen today conferred the order of knighthood upon Dr. Morrill Mackenzie, in recognition of his services to the crown prince of Germany.

Ireland.

DUBLIN, Sept. 8.—The Glasgow magistrates have sentenced Mr. Hayden, editor of the West Meath Examiner, to three months imprisonment for obstructing the police during recent evictions. Mr. Hayden appeals from the sentence and has been admitted to bail.

Steamer Lost on Lake Superior.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 8.—A special to the Sentinel from Marquette, Mich., says: Word has just been received of the foundering of the schooner Niagara, consort of the White Fish Point Lake Superior, yesterday. She was commanded by Captain Clements and was crewed by ten men. She was lost last November off Ashland with eleven lives. She was owned by Mr. Corrigan of Cleveland. Captain DeLoe, of the schooner Idaho, just arrived, reports passing the wreck of the Niagara at 11:30 a. m. today. She lies in one fathom of water, ten miles from shore. White Fish Point and five miles from shore. Her mizen mast just reaches above water and her main and foremast are floating near by with other pieces of wreckage. Captain Waite saw no traces of any of her ill-fated crew and states that not many miles from shore and the White Fish Point life saving station, no small boat could have lived in the terrible sea which was running there Wednesday. The United States arrived at the station during the day and reported that it was the worst storm ever experienced and when the Idaho came up it was still running high. Captain Waite thinks that in addition to the crew of the Niagara there were a number of ladies aboard of her. All must have perished between thirty and fifty souls. The Niagara was in the low of Australia this year, not the Raleigh last year. The gale was one of the worst on the lake for years, the wind reaching a velocity of sixty miles an hour. The George Sherman is safe behind White Fish Point, though fear was felt to her safety. There is no way of ascertaining the names of the lost tonight.

Escape of a Murderer.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 8.—A private telegram received in this city this morning announces that Elmer Clark, the murderer of Willie O'Neil, a well known citizen of this city, had escaped from the Western Asylum last night, where he was sent some weeks ago by the superintendent of the Mountaineer penitentiary under the belief that he was insane. The crime for which Clark was sent up was committed in the latter part of February last at Elm Grove, five miles from this city. The murderer was convicted at the June term of the circuit court and was sent to Mountaineer for nine years. Before he had been in the penitentiary a week Clark began to play the insanity dodge and two weeks after his incarceration he made a sensational attempt at suicide by plunging head foremost from the upper part of the cell at the prison to the stone flagging, 30 feet below. Clark was at the time thought to be fatally hurt but it was subsequently discovered that he had escaped with a few severe bruises. After his aerial flight Clark acted so queerly that prison officials thought his reason was unseated, and, acting on the advice of physicians, had him taken to Weston for treatment. It was learned today that the physician at the asylum, after careful treatment of Clark, had pronounced him sane and made preparations to have him taken back to the penitentiary. Their intentions, however, reached the ears of Clark, who made a bold and successful break for liberty, and is now at large.

Want Some Too.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—A sensational bill was filed in the supreme court today to break the will of the late eminent jurist, Judge T. L. Dickey, of the federal court. The value of the estate does not exceed $60,000. It is another circumstance of the case and in the prominence of the estate that the interest is great. According to the will, the widow Mrs. Beulah Dickey, was bequeathed the entire estate. She was Judge Dickey's second wife. The complainants are by his children, all of whom were by his first wife. They are J. J. Dickey, of Omaha, Mark A. Wallace, of Omaha, Ill., Charles Dickey, of Kansas, William Dickey, of Kansas, and Victoria B. Wallace of the same place. The court is asked to carry out the intention of the deceased, which is declared to be that the widow receive one-third of the estate, as provided by law, and the residue go to the children. It is said that the second marriage, which occurred in 1870, proved disastrous to him and his children. The wife is described as being of such violent temper that he was obliged to desert her for several years. Afterward she compelled him, how is not stated, to make the will, ignoring his children. Then the startling charge is made that when the judge was on his death bed he bequeathed the presence of a lawyer for the purpose of making a new will. This boon was denied and it is charged that pending the death of the aged judge, his wife, for purposes of her own, would allow no one to see him but herself.

Indignant Colored Men.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 8.—A rumor reached this city this evening from Brunswick, thirty miles distant, that 300 armed negroes had today visited the state camp recently superintended by Capt. Cogman, and warned the seventy men employed there to vacate the works at once and leave the country. The negroes are incensed on account of the brutal action of Capt. Cogman and his three assistants in murdering a negro laborer last week, and the camp and throwing their bodies into the river. The workmen who have been ordered away have armed themselves, and serious trouble is anticipated. There is no telegraph communication with Brunswick, and no particulars have yet been obtained. Capt. Cogman, who is in jail for the killing of the negro, was today indicted for murder in the first degree, as were also his three accomplices.

Semi-Centennial Jubilee.

PANAMA, Ill., September 8.—The semi-centennial jubilee of the Springfield Baptist association began here today with a large attendance of delegates for the first day. This afternoon the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary society, an adjunct of the association, met at the Baptist church. The program of exercises was quite interesting and included subjects of great importance. Tonight Rev. B. F. Pratt, of Shelbyville, delivered an address. Tomorrow the association proper will begin the session. About 100 delegates will be present.

The Brewers Organizing.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 8.—Representatives of ninety brewing firms met today and effected a state organization. They adopted resolutions denouncing the high license law as a blow at personal liberty and as unjust in discriminating against the brewers and the "milder beverages the exponent of true temperance produced by them." Demanding the repeal by the next legislature of all laws that are arbitrary and obnoxious, and the passage of an honest and equitable license law. They determined to organize in every county in the state and endeavor to secure the election of their friends to office. A secret assessment for campaign purposes was agreed upon and the campaign work put in the hands of a committee of twenty-five. President Heckler, of the state liquor league was presiding, with a committee and pledged the support of that organization.

Will Remain In.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—The threatened general strike of the switchmen here and the consequent paralysis of all the railroads across the city is temporarily averted. At a meeting tonight attended by 500 switchmen resolutions were adopted that all shall remain quietly at work so long as companies do not attempt to force them to work with a few obnoxious switchmen of the Lake Shore road.

PLAQUEMINE, O., Sept. 8.—Great crowds attending the second day of the semi-annual encampment of the G. A. R. Enthusiasm seemed to be at its height, the constant marching of battalions of veterans and representative companies of Sons of Veterans. The business meeting regimental reunion occupied the time today. Tonight there is a campfire.

Forced to Succumb.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—The firm of Shipman & Holt, extensive miners and shippers of bituminous coal, through the failure of Chas. E. Pennock & Co., of Coatesville, and Robert Hare Powell & Co., have been compelled to make an assignment. Assets $288,000; liabilities at $217,000.

UNCONVENTIONAL PEOPLE.

Everybody has encountered the people who take to themselves what they suppose to be the credit of being unconventional; who offer a statement of that fact as the sufficient excuse for all sorts of violations of good breeding and social rules, and who assume the license to do as they please as if they had the power to raise themselves above the authority of ordinary canons of behavior. Such a feat is not wholly unlike that of the man who has become proverbially famous by his frantic endeavors to lift himself over the fence by his boot straps. The man who does this foolishly self-blinded and for the most part decidedly unpleasant people can not be made to see their conduct in its true aspect.

It should not be forgotten that society is, in a sense, an artificial state. Whatever general natural principles underlie it, its formation, its rules are arbitrary and it is in effect a conventional arrangement. To attempt to be unconventional in society is an anomaly and a contradiction of terms. If one desires to be unconventional, let him put himself outside of conventional conditions, or in other words, join himself to those who are not hampered by the conventions he effects to despise. Be sure he has no right to enjoy himself at the expense of those whose sacrifices to these arbitrary rules he refuses to acknowledge. He must make the condition of things he finds most congenial and enjoyable. The people who declare themselves "unconventional, you know," are apt to be the last persons who can endure a like quality in others. They expect the rest of the world to treat their frank selfishness with conventional forbearance.

As a matter of practical fact, unconventionality as urged and practiced by these people is merely a form of ill breeding and egotism, intolerable and selfish. In a society where others are sufficiently well trained and polite to overlook these idiosyncrasies they are able to live in some comfort, but once they are brought in contact with their own kind a clash is inevitable, and they are sufficiently ready to pronounce their own sentence by declaring these obnoxious individuals to be unendurable bore. If they could but be brought to see that the same epithet is the only one to be justly applied to themselves something would be gained, for of all the plagues which infest society, few are so absolutely execrable and thoroughly irritating as the people who pride themselves upon being unconventional.

A Veteran's Windfall.

Probably the largest amount ever paid to one individual at one payment by an agency in the country was involved in a case which was completed in Philadelphia a few days ago. The sum of $12,963 was awarded to Edward Murrow, who during the war was a member of company F, Sixty-ninth Pennsylvania volunteers. The claim dates back to December 25, 1862, and is for $6 per month from that time to June 6, 1868; $25 per month from that to June 4, 1872; $30 per month from that to June 17, 1875; and $22 per month from that to June 1, 1887. Murrow was badly wounded, and after being mustered out of the service took up his former business to support his family. Complications set in after a time, however, and he gradually grew worse. He became entirely disabled several years ago, and finally became insane. He lives with a son, Robert H. Murrow, up town. The son has given bonds in the sum of $28,000 for the proper management of the father's estate.—Philadelphia Record.

Chicago Grain and Provisions. Chicago, Sept. 8. The bear crowd evidently went beyond bounds yesterday and the natural reaction occurred today. There was nothing special to help the bulls and no outside influences at work beyond moderate purchases. The opening was about yesterday's closing price, but influenced by a better demand, partially in sympathy with the strong rise in corn, prices advanced about 1/4 cent and closed about 1/4 cent higher than yesterday. Trading all through the session was in a small way but aggregated considerable volume. Corn opened at 85 1/2, advanced to 86 1/2, and closed at 86 1/2. Corn showed a little more life for today and fluctuations were more frequent than the past few days. The feeling generally was quite firm, the main feature in particular exhibiting more strength. Trading was largely local, shorts buying quite freely, especially for October delivery. The principal feature was the receipts, which were nearly one hundred cars less than expected and the estimates for tomorrow show considerable decrease and tend to create a strong feeling. Besides this there were rumors that the government report to be issued the 19th would make a poorer showing than last month. October opened better at 4 1/4, sold up to 4 1/2, reacted slightly and then sold up to 4 1/2. The leading futures ranged as follows:
